Event description:

The event was organized after college hours at 20: 45 Hrs on 7th July 2021. Ms.Shashi Agrawal from Siliguri West Bengal was invited to deliver the expert talk on flute and its importance in self development. The event was intended for one hour from 20:45 Hrs to 21:45 hours but due to fruitful interaction of interested students with the expert it ended at 22:15 Hrs.

SC ST Cell Coordinator Prof N S Patel has warmly welcomed the expert and some background introduction was provided to students. The expert started by first introducing herself and her motive behind learning flute and also informed students about her agenda of the webinar that is to encourage students to learn flute and understand the importance of music in life. Ms Shashi Agrawal has explained the basics of flute and also about the soors and swars of music in a simple and fluent manner to the students. She also explained to students that learning music will help them to stay relaxed, and ignite their inner self to stay calm in tough situations of life.

Ms Shashi Agrawal has also performed some flute based songs as well as played ragas on flutes to give a basic idea to the participant students. Apart from this GEC Valsad student from Environment department has also performed on flute by playing three songs. The session ended with question answers in which students asked so many questions that the webinar extended half an hour more than the ending time.
